

See Jane. See Jane's profile. See Jane sell.

At the Nevada Housing Division, we're all about connecting homebuyers with homes. As one of our super awesome lenders, you're the one who brings them together, making you something of a superhero.

One way we're showing our appreciation is by giving you the opportunity to build an awe-inspiring, mind-blowing profile for homebuyers to see. We encourage you to put your personal stamp on it with a fun photo and an original description in the 'About Loan Officer' section.

Many homebuyers have not preselected a lender. Give them the perfect excuse to choose you. Below is an example of an engaging profile. Please take a moment to gain inspiration, and then update your profile to shine like the star you are.

About Loan Officer: Hi. I'm Jane Doe and I want to give you money. Why? Because you deserve a nice place to live, and I really like helping people find their way home. I will work hard for you to make sure the process goes smoothly. My humongous dog Brutus will be faithfully by my side throughout the process. Don't worry, we don't bite. I look forward to meeting you soon—if I don't see you at the dog park first.

You couldn't stop reading, could you? Now it's your turn to unleash your inner Hemingway.
